A thoughtful beginning

Choose one small task. Plan a first step, then return to your ideas after trying it. You can change your plan.

Something I would like to begin

Draw a first step I can try

One difficulty I might meet

Who or what could help?

After trying: what would I change?

An original family activity, not a ritual or a score. Draw, write or tell a grown-up. Personal, family and classroom printing is welcome; keep the attribution.
