Look, wonder, learn

Choose a Shiv Ji image with a grown-up. Record what you can see before looking for an explanation. An unanswered question can stay open.

The image or source we chose

Draw one detail I can see

One question about this detail

What we learned, or still wonder

Who or which source helped us?

An original observation activity, not a ritual. A grown-up can write while you draw. Personal, family and classroom printing is welcome; keep the attribution.
